Providing CEAT students with the best technology at the best prices.

OrangeTech is proud to partner with the Oklahoma State University College of Engineering, Architecture and Technology to offer the following strategically selected and specially equipped laptops at special educational discounts exclusively for freshman engineers. These laptops will be available to order and/or pick up this summer during New Student Orientation. As an added bonus, you can even bill the cost of your laptop to your Bursar account if you have financial aid. Contact OrangeTech for more information.
