Mark Brewer

OKLAHOMA STATE UNIVERSITY
ENGINEERING, ARCHITECTURE & TECHNOLOGY

HALL OF FAME

Mark Brewer is the senior leader of information technology at Seagate Technology. He has extensive experience with enterprise level security issues and operations, and he has spoken in several forums on privacy and security topics related to information technology. Brewer's experience in the industry expands beyond the borders of the United States. He spent two years in Singapore while he supported IT operations for the company in Singapore, Malaysia, Thailand, China and Japan.

Prior to Seagate Technology, Brewer served as an engineering assistant and development engineer at AT&T Network Systems. In addition to his role at Seagate Technology, he is a member of the board of trustees at Oklahoma Christian University, a member of the strategic advisory council for the College of Engineering, Architecture and Technology at OSU and certified in production and inventory management (CPIM).

A loyal and true alumnus, Brewer received his bachelor's, master's and doctorate degrees in electrical engineering from Oklahoma State University.

Ann Oglesby

OKLAHOMA STATE UNIVERSITY

HALL OF FAME

Ann Oglesby is the general manager of lubricants at Phillips 66. Before assuming her current role in March 2013, Oglesby was vice president of communications and public affairs for Phillips 66. She served in that same capacity for ConocoPhillips from 2010-2012. During her tenure with ConocoPhillips, she served as the general manager of corporate planning and strategy from 2009-2010, manager of climate change and sustainable development from 2007-2009, president of specialty products from 2004-2007 and manager of emerging technology from 2001-2004.

Oglesby began her career in the oil industry in 1987 with Mobil Corporation where she was involved in various engineering, supply, business development and planning positions focused on petrochemicals.

Oglesby currently serves as the Phillips 66 executive liaison for Oklahoma State University. She is also a member of the executive advisory council for the Women's Energy Network.

Originally from Fort Smith, Ark., Oglesby became a loyal and true cowboy in 1987 when she earned her bachelor's in chemical engineering from Oklahoma State University.
