FY 2012 Proposed Raise Program

- Merit-based program for faculty and staff
- Faculty: Average 3% program based on employee evaluations
- Staff: Average 3% program based on employee evaluations; however, if staff are determined eligible, they should receive a minimum annual increase of $1,000
- Effective July 1, 2011

Sources of Revenue – All Agencies

FY 2011

FY 2012

Total Budget = $1,016M

Total Budget = $1,079M

Auxiliary Enterprises

- Athletics - Increases include a 3% raise program along with other contracted personnel agreements, fringe benefits, debt service, event management, utilities, equipment, team travel, facility supplies, repairs and maintenance. Conference distributions have increased due to the television contract with Fox.
- Residential Life - Occupancy is expected to be near the maximum capacity of 6,000 for single student housing. This represents an increase of nearly 1,100 students compared to FY 2009. Family and graduate student apartments are also projected to be at maximum capacity. This will allow the department to improve net operating income without raising rates in FY 2012.

- Student Union – In the FY 2012 budget, the increase in revenue can be attributed to student fees associated with the projected increase in enrollment, as well as additional revenues expected with the opening of the newly renovated building. Key services, such as the bookstore, dining and Campus Life, will move back into the newly renovated Student Union when the fall semester begins. The north facade and new plaza will be completed for the Fall 2011 semester and will add a tremendous presence for the campus community. This will further enhance the iconic nature of the OSU Student Union. Additional work will begin on the west porch and ballroom in the fall, once the north facade is completed. While meeting and conference revenue may be slower than usual, robust revenue is anticipated from the bookstore and food service areas.

Comments and Observations

- Fitch: “The university has manageable debt levels and a low debt burden.”
- Standard & Poor’s: “A very manageable pro forma debt service burden . . .”
- The assignment of the excellent credit rating (AA-) and the comments included in the reports of both credit ratings agencies support the assertion that OSU’s debt burden is “low” and “very manageable.”
- OSU’s debt burden ratio remains well below NACUBO’s suggested threshold of 7%. According to Moody’s information, OSU is in the lower to middle range of both national and peer institutions. Both Fitch and S&P believe the University’s debt burden is low.

Planning for FY 2013

Managing enrollment increases will require significant planning in the following areas:

- Classroom availability
- Housing
- Dining
- Public Safety
- Parking and Transit
- Faculty growth

Highlights

General University

Learning and Student Success Opportunity Center (LASSO Center)

- The LASSO Center will provide programming and services to all OSU students in one or more of five primary areas: academic tutoring, tacit knowledge skills, mentorship, self-efficacy and motivation, and student independence.

Efficiency Gains

- The OSU Energy Conservation Program to date has saved $16.0M system wide. Based on recommendations from Johnson Controls, Inc., installation of new HVAC equipment, improvements to the steam distribution system, and installation of new energy efficient chillers at the West Chilled Water Plant will add savings.
- E-Procurement will reduce paper processing and leverage vendor pricing with an estimated net savings of $6.3M over five years.
- OSU is actively exploring other opportunities to reinvent, reengineer and privatize business practices for efficiency gains in both processes and dollars saved.

Highlights

Division of Agricultural Sciences & Natural Resources

- The Oklahoma Agricultural Experiment Station accounts for approximately 37 percent of the research expenditures at OSU, used in conducting fundamental and applied research for the purpose of developing new procedural, product and technology improvements that address concerns and issues important to rural and urban Oklahoma.
- Oklahoma Cooperative Extension Service county educators and area, district and state specialists work side-by-side with state residents, communities and organizations to help them make the best use of science-based innovations, with the goal of improving the quality of life for Oklahomans. Cooperative Extension Service has offices located in all 77 counties in the state.

Highlights

OSU Institute of Technology - Okmulgee

- Student retention will be an emphasis in FY 2012. OSU IT is piloting a Learning Community Program to increase retention of students with two or more remedial deficiencies.
- Nursing Program I-pad Project beginning in Fall 2011. The I-pads will include electronic textbooks and medical record data collection to enhance the learning experience, and will provide real-time access to current medical research and information.
- Renovation of the Engineering Technology and Information Technology classrooms and faculty offices, as recommended by the ABET accrediting team.

Highlights

Center for Veterinary Health Sciences

- Received full accreditation by the Council on Education of the American Veterinary Medical Association
- Achieved highest enrollment in the DVM degree program history
- Awarded an all-time high of $318,794 in scholarships
- Received a $4.0 million grant from NIH to continue studies to find new agents to treat drug resistant bacteria
- Emeritus Professor Roger Panciera was inducted into the Oklahoma Higher Education Hall of Fame, and Dean Michael Lorenz was named 2011 Oklahoma Veterinarian of the Year

Highlights

Oklahoma City

- In the next month, the new Engineering Technology Center will open, which will be home to the Division of Engineering. In addition, the campus has recently completed renovations to the Veterans Services Center. Both accomplishments will allow the campus to continue to offer the quality learning experiences, services and facilities OSU-OKC students deserve.
- Economic development, enrollment management and campus wide planning are specific areas of emphasis for the upcoming year, with a property and facilities master plan being developed in conjunction with our 50th anniversary.
- Strengthening relationships with the Stillwater campus, both from an academic and brand perspective, by increasing the number of articulation agreements, updating the look and colors of the campus to be more consistent with OSU Stillwater, and offering events for students that more closely tie them to the Stillwater campus.

Highlights

Center for Health Sciences

- Continue to identify appropriate and viable options for the expansion of the OSU primary care clinics
- Implement a new electronic medical records system to assist in the management of our physician practice
- Continue to expand the medical school enrollment from 88 to 115 in a phased-in effort. This fall, CHS will seat 98 students
- Complete the transition of the Health Care Administration program from the OSU Stillwater campus to the CHS campus
- Implement a medical school early admissions process with the Stillwater campus to increase the number of OSU graduates entering the medical school

Highlights

Tulsa

- Raised $670,000 with The Stately Affair – Icons for OSU. Boone Pickens served as honorary chair and spoke at the dinner event.
- Hired a senior researcher and extended two offers to other research faculty for the Helmerich Research Center, which would bring the total to nine. Approximately 35 graduate research assistants are currently engaged, and that number will increase to over 50 in the next year.
- Increased enrollment, including distance learning, to over 3,100 students.
- Received an AEP/PSO gift of $250,000, which will fund equipment purchases for the Helmerich Research Center
- Established the Kaiser Chair for Family Resilience with the Kaiser Foundation gift of $1 million. The gift includes $150,000 over three years to help fund operations of the Center for Family Resilience.
- Gained further savings of $250,000 through additional consolidation of services with CHS and improvement in processes.
